Greg Grosch Chief Executive Officer

Greg has a long history of successfully managing companies for growth and profitability, with over 30 years experience in the supply and construction industries. He has extensive knowledge of all sectors of these industries, from residential construction to high-rise and infrastructure projects. Most notably, Greg founded White Cap Industries in 1976, and served as CEO and President of White Cap for 25 years, growing revenues to over $350 million before his departure in 2001. White Cap is now wholly owned by HD Supply. For eight years prior to joining TCSC, Greg worked as an industry consultant to private equity firms, private and publically traded companies, and was involved in the consolidation of several companies previously owned by Stock Supply, and in the sale of the assets of Orco Construction Supply to HD Supply.

Greg received his B.S. degree in Business Administration at California State University Northridge in 1973.
